

The 22nd annual conference will be held in Toowoomba, Queensland Australia
8 - 10 December, 2015
with a welcome buffet at 6 p.m. on Monday, December 7

The conference has been held in Toowoomba before, to the delight of the delegates. The University of Southern Queensland will be the presentation venue. An included dinner will take the form of an Aussie barbecue, where you can try grilled kangaroo steaks as well as succulent beef, in a venue with magnificent views from the edge of the Great Dividing Range.

Call for Papers

There were rather few abstracts submitted, but a decision has been made to hold the conference here in Toowoomba all the same. Full papers have started rolling in, but we would welcome many more. The closing date has been extended until the end of September, though authors of later papers will have less opportunity to buy early flight tickets.

Please send your full paper as an attachment to email to billings@usq.edu.au, with subject line "M2VIP 2015, Toowoomba full paper." You can find a template here.

It will be judged for relevance to the conference, novelty, evidence of application - and especially for interest to the delegates.

We will endeavour to give you a decision within four weeks of your submission so that you can have time to make decisions on travel arrangements. You might also be asked to make any reasonable revisions that the reviewers suggest.

Since the proceedings will initially be in electronic form, there is no stipulated page limit. However you should bear in mind the amount of material that you can usefully present in half an hour, including question time.

The registration fee will be kept to a minimum and will cover little more than the excellent menu of meals.

Springers have already expressed keen interest in a fourth volume of papers to publish – the third was published in March this year. When the papers from the Manila conference are added, it is hoped that enough good papers can be selected to make up the volume.
